FRANCE BOLTS AT REDUCING ARMY

Premier Briand Asserts At Disarmament Conference That Prussian Militarism Sits At Her Doorstep And Awaits Opportunity to Attack Again As In 1914---Also Fears Russia

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The third plenary session of the conference adjourned at 2:06 p. m. to meet at the call of the chair. The whole question of limitation of land armament was referred to the committee consisting of the heads of the nine delegations in the conference.

CONTINENTAL HALL, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Rising to the full height of his fiery Latin eloquence, Premier Briand of France, delivered an impressioned speech to the world today in justification for France's maintenance of a great standing army.

He passionately and eloquently pleaded with the powers that France dare not disarm, asserting that on her doorstep sits the old Prussian militarism that attacked her in 1914, ready to strike again at a moment's notice.

In a veritable torrent of words, accompanied by gestures, pleading and supplicating he asked the nations sitting about the great horse shoe table to put themselves in France's stead—surrounded by a menacing ring of foes, the greatest of whom are Germany and Russia.

Would the world, he asked almost tearfully, demand that France disarm before a possible flood of anarchy and militarism pouring out of Russia and Germany?

Must Have Army

"What would you do?" he said and then answered his own question by declaring. You would say 'We must have an army'."

"You in America" he said, looking around at the galleries crowded with breathless people "what would you do, with this menace always at your door, always ready to fight you again. Would you turn away your eyes and lose your life and what is more precious, your honor?"

"No!" he shouted.

The eloquent French premier did not bring to the conference any program for limitation of land armament. He made no suggestions as to how the crushing burden of taxation, under which his country and the other states of

ARMS CONFERENCE DEVELOPMENTS TODAY

1—Third plenary session held.

2—Premier Briand outlined France's position and told the conference that France needs a strong army because she is the "policeman of Europe." France is not militaristic, but feels that she is menaced by Germany and the possibility of a German-Russian alliance;

The war spirit in Germany still thrives and Germany has the nucleus of a trained army of 250,000 men;

Germany has not completely disarmed and has a vast industrial establishment that can be turned quickly to the manufacture of war materials.

Russia can raise an army of twenty million men and Germany has already "invited the Russians to cross the border."

France is cutting her military service time in half.

3—Far Eastern committee will meet at four p. m. to continue discussion of China.

JULIUS LEPPER AGAIN NABBED SELLING HOOTCH

Julius Lepper Western Heights soft drink storekeeper was arrested this morning for the second time on a charge of violating the city liquor ordinance.

Officers searching his place this morning found a bottle or hootch in his coat pocket hanging up behind the bar. Lepper claimed he had a sore leg and used the raisin jack on that. He plead guilty when brought before Mayor Jones and will have a trial tomorrow. He was recently fined $500 and costs for the same offence, a bottle of liquor being found secreted in the leg of a pool table.

EXPELLED FROM SCHOOL FOR POWDERING FACE, BRINGS CASE TO COURT

KNOBEL, Ark.—To powder or not to powder? That question will be settled here on November 26 by Judge Marion Futrell, in Clay County Circuit Court. Upon the decision of Judge Futrell rests also the question as to whether Miss Pearl Pugsley, 18 and pretty shall be reinstated as a student in the Knobel high school. The decision will decide officially whether or not members of the Knobel Board of Education have a legal right to expel a student for using face powder. Following her expulsion by Principal N. E. Hick for refusal to wash powder from her face Miss Pugsley filed mandamus proceedings against members of the school board. She seeks reinstatement in her classes and "vindication" of her use of cosmetics. "The school board has trampled upon my rights," declared Miss Pugsley, "and I consider it my duty to resist their unlawful rule against the use of powder just as much as I would consider it my duty to obey a lawful rule. I shall fight this case to the last ditch. The laws of Arkansas provide that no student shall be expelled unless for gross immorality, refractory conduct or insubordination. I am innocent of any of these." "The wearing of low-neck dresses, transparent hosiery, or any kind of clothing tending toward immodesty, the use of paint, lip sticks and all cosmetics are prohibited among students of this school," says the rule Miss Pugsley seeks to have declared unlawful.

Attorneys Sue For Their Fees

In Judge Redingtons court a jury is hearing the case of F. M. Stevens and Guy Findley against Curtis Eckert, for $150 attorney fees. The plaintiffs allege that they were employed in 1917 to defend Eckert in a case brought by the village of Grafton to make him move a building that stood partly in a village street.

NINETY GERMAN PRISONERS END HUNGER STRIKE

BERLIN, Nov. 21—Ninety German political prisoners at Lichtenburg, Saxony, today ended their hunger strike begun in protest against refusal of the government to review their cases. Twenty of their leaders continued hunger striking, however.

There are 190 political prisoners in the Lichtenburg jail. There

Triple Alliance Must Go in Order To Obtain Peace

By EDNA L. BOOKER.
(Ins. Staff Correspondent.)
(Copywright 1921 by International News Service).

SHANGHAI, Nov. 21.—Lord Northcliffe, famous British publisher, on his arrival toda from a tour of Japan, charged in an executive statement to the International News Service that the Anglo Japanese alliance is the sharpest sword in the hands of the military party of Japan and is responsible for Japan's past arrogant attitude toward the U. S.

"Kill the alliance and you will rob them of half their power," he declared.

"After the overwhelming hospitality extended me during my visit to Japan, it may seem ungracious to criticise," said Lord Northcliffe. "But I am able to do so in good conscience because in speeches in Australia and Manila and in a plain statement before going to Japan, I expressed strong opposition to continuation of the anti-American war-provoking Anglo-Japanese alliance.

"The Anglo-Japanese alliance is the sharpest sword in the hands of the war party of Japan. Under the cover of the alliance the war party of Japan spends more than half the people's income on the navy, army and fortifications.

"Japan's past arrogant attitude toward the United States would not have been possible without this alliance.

"The Chinese who detest this alliance as much as Americans do, and the British in the orient, blame Great Britain for their suffering at the hands of Japan.

"One bad result of the alliance, is the attitude of the war party towards Japan's desire for real democratic government.

"Owing to the strength of the war party, the right of the people to hold public meetings and the freedom of the press is at the mercy of police and censors controlled by the war party.

"Many Japanese told me they hated the imitation German militarism of the war party but were powerless.

"The so called diet is a farce. It has no more power than the old German reichstag.

"Japan is ruled absolutely by four elder statesmen.

"Kill the Anglo-Japanese alliance and you will rob them of half their power.

Though they will want watching this year, next year and many pears to come."

HOLD FUR MAN IN TRIPLE MURDER

WILMINGTON, O., Nov. 21.—Oliver Vandervort, Wilmington fur dealer, will be given a preliminary hearing on a charge of triple murder late this afternoon before Squire W. I. Stewart.

Three pistols, one with five empty chambers, are now in the hands of the authorities. One of them was found in Vendervort's automobile standing outside the Withrow home. The other two were found lying on the floor, where the bodies of Mrs. Vandervort and Bosler lay, side by side.

Oliver Vandervort is accused of the murder of his divorced wife, Mrs. Bertha Whitlow Vandervort, 30, her mother, Mrs. Jeff Whitlow, 57 and Howard Bosier 24, a caller at Whitlow home, will have his preliminary hearing here today.

The triple crime was committed Saturday night. Vandervort denies his guilt, but officials say that Mrs. Whitlow, the only one of the victims not dying instantly, accused

THREE BANDITS GET $50,000 JEWELRY

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Three bandits held up the jewelry store of Henry Stern in West Madison street shortly after 9 o'clock this morning and according to a report to the police, escaped with $50,000 in gems.

The bandits, all armed, compelled Stern and two employees into a rear room, while they rifled the store.

Many persons were passing in the busy street while the robbery was taking place.

TOT KILLED IN ACT OF GOING TO HIS FATHER

MIDDLETOWN, O., Nov. 21.—Ely Tiery, aged three, running to meet his father, Conley Tiery, taxi driver, was instantly killed when run down on Tyus avenue by a truck driven by Clifford Elsinger 1325 Central avenue, Cincinnati.

Coroner Edward Cook ordered Elsinger's dismissal, holding him blameless for the accident.

RESCUE MAN BURIED UNDER 20 TONS OF COAL

MIDDLETOWN, Nov. 21—Employees worked two hours rescuing the body of John Petterson, Catalpa drive, fireman, who was buried under twenty tons of coal in a chute at the mill of the Gardner Harvey company.

COUNCIL MEETS MONDAY NIGHT

The city council will hold a regular meeting this evening at the city hall. The ordinance providing for changing the mayor's salary from $3,000 a year to $2,400 instead of $2,100 as at first proposed, will come up for consideration.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Wayne Wilber, 1131 East River street was arrested for violating the traffic ordinance by cutting the corner of East Bridge and Broad street. He pleaded not guilty this morning, and will be tried tomorrow.

JAZZ KING SUED BY SELF-STYLED WIFE NO. 2

All went well in the romance of Earl Fuller, the self styled "Jazz King," until the women he had loved met one another, and then—oh, well—Mrs. Beulah Modjeska Sugge Fuller, who calls herself Mrs. Fuller No. 2, has filed suit for separation in New York. Fuller denies there was a marriage but she says they clasped hands lovingly and promised each other to be good and faithful and that constituted a marriage. Fuller recently married Mrs. Norvah Willim. Fuller in Greenwich Conn. The photo shows Mrs. Beulah Modjeska Sugge Fuller who is suing for separation in order to have her "marriage" to him recognized by the courts.

Dr. L. J. Osborne, Cleveland, With Girl At Time of Death, Held Under $2,000 Bond on Manslaughter Charge---Death Is Mystery---Dead Girl's Brain, Heart and Contents of Stomach Sent to Cleveland For Analysis in Hope of Determining Death---Coroner Refuses To Turn Over Body To Girl's Relatives

Ruth Wilkie, 22, known as "the Klondike Girl," was found dead in bed at the Elyria Hotel Sunday morning, and her companion, Dr. F. J. Osborne, 27, 1590 Meadow Brook road, Cleveland, with an office in the Osborne building, Cleveland, faces a charge of manslaughter.

The first the police knew of the tragedy was when Dr. Osborne and his attorney, F. J. Moriarty, of Cleveland, walked into police station yesterday afternoon at 12:30 and made the announcement that the woman was dead.

Met Girl on Saturday

According to the story told the police Dr. Osborn first met the girl in his office Saturday afternoon. She complained that she was not feeling well, he said, and asked for some "dope." The doctor states that she acted strangely, and he did not give her any. Later he offered to take her to her home 683 Eddy road, and started out with her. He says the cold air seemed to do her good and he kept on going until they landed in Elyria. They had supper at the Elyria Hotel restaurant, he said, and then admitted proposing that they stay all night. She agreed, he said, and they registered as Dr. Orville and wife, Cleveland. In the night she woke him, he said, and complained she did not feel well and could not sleep. He gave her a stimulant, he said, and she woke him again about 2:30 but he said he refused to give her any more.

He said at 7 o'clock Sunday morning he

Joy Riders Take Two Automobiles

Joy riders stole two automobiles last night from where they were parked on Second street.

Dr. Parker, Amherst, left his machine in front of the Elk's club and it was gone when he returned. Later it was found at the corner of East avenue and second street. A medicine case, a box of candy and the key to the automobile had been taken.

A. Gussel, of Grafton, left his Ford truck in front of the Rialto Theater while he attended the show. It was gone when he came back. Late last night it was found on the Oberlin road where it had been left.

Howard Stang, 175 Erie street, also reported that some one stole his bicycle Saturday night from where he had left it on Broad St.

THREE BILLION TAX BILL IS PREDICTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Final enactment of the $3,100,000,000 tax bill, and the end of the present extra session of congress by Wednesday, was predicted today by republicans.

In deciding finally to sign the conference report on the measure, because he felt that it is, perhaps the best compromise that can be effected at this time, Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, of the republican conferees, is regarded as reflecting the views of a large number of republicans in both the senate and house who are dissatisfied with it.

MAYOR MAKES AN APPEAL

We are now approaching the time of the year when the appeals for assistance are increasing and the funds of the many charitable organizations are fast being depleted.

In order to help the poor and needy during the winter months, we are making an appeal to those who have not as yet paid up their pledge made to the Community Chest Fund, do so, as the money paid in at this time will be the means of adding a little sunshine to the lives of those who may otherwise be in need.

Sincerely yours,
ASAPH K. JONES, Mayor.

WHY NOT A BUS LINE?

A resident of Eastern Heights, the other day, made a suggestion of the advisability of a bus service between Eastern Heights and the central part of the city. We think this writer made out a case

Today another writer emphasizes the same thing for East Broad street beyond the point of the street car line.

When several people, on their own initiative, suggest this through letters to the paper, there must be many others who are greatly desirous of this service

There are a number of men who are out of employment. There are automobiles in large numbers in the city which might be used and it might be well worth while for someone to begin the operation of such a line.

An automobile could give excellent service by a belt line going over Fourth street bridge, out on East River street, then across two or three different streets out to East Broad street and back to the city.

There are many people who work over town, go home for lunch and during the shopping period of the day unquestionably scores would patronize such a line. I should be well worth trying

IT IS COMING

In spite of adverse criticism and pessimism the conference at Washington is really bringing results

When the chief countries interested in the reduction of naval programs are agreed and even France, which because of the situation on her north is kept in a constant state of fear, proposes to reduce her army from 700,000 to 300 000 and continue to so reduce it, it demonstrates that after all the world is fast reaching the conclusion that difficulties must be solved by some other method than force

It will be but a short time before even Germany will be impressed with the sincerity of the allies as far as the determination to disarm is concerned and undoubtedly as the minds of people are devoted to the plan of disarmament the nations will come to see the necessity of receiving Germany as one of their number

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

"I believe in the United States ... a government of the people by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

The above creed was written by William Tyler Page who secured by it a prize of $1000 offered by the city of Baltimore for a creed for America. Mr Page is a descendant of President John Tyler and of Carter Braxton a signer of the Declaration of Independence

A TIMELY WARNING

Ex-Senator A. J. Beveridge in speaking the other evening at the New York State Chamber of Commerce in one paragraph gave utterance to a truth that is well worth repeating and emphasizing

He said, "When organizations, by threats to strangle the nation, can dictate laws for their own advantage, at the expense of all the people, then regular government by all for the good of all is annihilated; and in place of it is substituted the erratic despotism of particular groups for their special purposes, to the injury of the country as a whole."

Mr Beveridge is one of the ablest and one of the clearest thinkers our country has. He is a thorough student and fearless in the presentation of what he believes. He sees as others do the organization of groups in our country who are gaining control to the extent that they can pass legislation for their own good and sometimes to the others hurt

We are not much alarmed over any particular trouble when the eyes of the people are focused upon that difficulty. It is bound to be remedied and hence we are cheered by the clear enunciation and denunciation of such a difficulty as Mr. Beveridge furnishes.

A Boston girl tells of a friend from another town who during a recent visit to the Hub spoke often and enthusiastically of her love for music

One afternoon the Boston girl arranged for the music lover to attend a concert. As there was an errand which the latter must do before the concert it was arranged that she should meet her Boston friend at the hall and that the latter was to "go right in"

The concert had, however, been under way for some time when the music lover appeared

"Have I missed much?" she whispered as she slid into the seat alongside the Boston girl. "What are they playing?"

"The Fifth Symphony," was the response

"Gracious me! Am I as late as that?" asked the music

U. S. S. Maryland Speediest Superdreadnought in World

The U S S Maryland, superdreadnought on a trial trip off the coast of Rockland, Maine, made 21 76 knots breaking all records up to date. She is the latest type of U S Navy oil burner, electric-driven 30,000 horsepower, and is of 33,500 tonnage. Six hundred and twenty feet long 97 foot beam and a draft of 32 feet, has eight 16-inch guns the first U S ship to be equipped with guns of this kind which fire projectiles weighing 2,100 pounds. The Maryland has a charge of smokeless powder of 600 pounds, bring the shot 30 000 yards at sea, and shore mount of thirty miles. It can be loaded in fifteen seconds. Both England and Japan have guns of that size on their battleships. The payroll for the officers and men on this ship amounts to $95 000 per month. The ship, which is known as the "Queen of the Sea," is the most powerful war vessel afloat and was commissioned on July 21, 1921. She is in command of Captain Charles Preston. Charged With Manslaughter

Prosecuting Attorney Lawrence Webber was called, and with Court Stenographer Walter Watts went to police station where Dr. Osborne made a statement which was taken down by Mr. Watts. Mayor Jones was sent for, and a formal charge of manslaughter was lodged against Dr. Osborne. He was arraigned, plead not guilty to the charge of manslaughter, and later was released on a $2,000 bond.

The body of Miss Wilkie was taken to the Jenkins undertaking parlors to await action by her parents with whom she lived. It is understood that she telephoned to them Saturday night and told them she would be home in the morning.

Girl Has a History

READY TO GIVE UP CLAIM IN CHINA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—"Japan will relinquish all her claims in China with the exception of the south Manchurian railway. To give up her claims on that railway would mean 'Hari Kari' to Japan."

This statement was made here today by a Japanese official close to the working of the Japanese delegation to the arms conference. The official stated that Japan is willing to concede the ten principles proposed by China and to agree to any further statement of principles upon the part of China, with the single exception of Japan's south Manchurian claims.

That Japan will find substantiating causes for holding her south Manchurian claims after giving up all else was declared by the official to lie in the expectancy that Great Britain will give up all her claims with the exception of Hong Kong.

South Manchuria means life itself to Japan. To surrender her claims there, legitimately secured by treaties, would be equivalent to committing Hari Kari, the Japanese diplomtic observer declared. He added that Japan feels in surrendering her claims in China and retaining only claims in south Manchuria that she is committing herself to the cause of peace in the far east and meeting the wishes of the powers gathered about the Washington conference table.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The city of Chicago lost today in the supreme court of the United States its fight for review of the decisions and orders by which the Chicago Railway Company has increased its street car fares, the supreme court of the U. S. dismissing the city's apeal for want of jurisdiction.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—A case involving the constitutionality of recently enacted trading in futures on grain exchange brought by John Hill, Jr., and others against Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, was set for argument by the supreme court of the U. S. today on Tuesday, Jan. 3rd.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The U. S. supreme court today recessed for Thanksgiving holiday until Monday, December 5.

POLICE CHIEF AT CLEVELAND FACES OUSTING

CLEVELAND, Nov. 21—Police Chief Frank W. Smith of Cleveland faces possible dismissal today as the result of his criticism of his superior, Director Anton B. Sprosty of the public safety department. Mayor William S. Fitzgerald stated this morning that he would confer today with the director to determine the nature of the punishment to be inflicted upon the outspoken chief.

Smith, in a statement, formally places the responsibility for the arts of Patrolman Martn Callan, implicated in the serious wounding of a woman Friday night, at the doors of Director Sprosty, and said that Sprosty had restored Callan to duty after being informed that he was unfit to be an officer.

The disciplining of Smith has been long talked of and there has been almost constant bickering between him and the safety director for many months.

Court Items of Minor Interest

Chas. Shahpornski, of Lorain, plead not guilty to stealing a quantity of brass from a B. & O. engine this morning, and was placed under $1,500 bond.

LeRoy LaDow secured judgment on a cognovit note this morning for $552.50, against Geo. Friedenstine.

A jury gabe judgment for $150 this morning to Catherine Gershal, an infant, by her next friend, Geo. Gershal, against Sam Greenwald, on acount of a recent auto accident.

In the case of Sam White against John Rupert, E. L. Pierce, receiver, was ordered to sell the defendant's personal property at public auction.

S. J. George secured judgment by default against F. S. Santleach for $1,017.94.

Judge Thompson confirmed the sale of the Perfection Bread Co., of Lorain, to a Cleveland concern for $65,000. All liens on the property were ordered paid. The name of the concern making the purchase was not made public.

Criminal court did not convene as expected this morning, and there will be no cases tried until next Wednesday morning.

W. B. Clawson filed suit Saturday against Chas. Bell, of Lorain for a mandatory order to compel him to move a garage out of a driveway that was occupied in common by the parties to the suit. It is claimed that the garage stands partly on Clawson's property, and that he allows automobiles to stand in the driveway blocking it so that Clawson cannot use it.

LORAINITE GETS HIS RELEASE FROM JAIL

Friends of Hony Gorza were trying to have the county commissioners release him from the county jail this morning. He was sent up from Lorain on a charge of selling raisin jack, and was fined $500 and costs. He has been in jail for three months. They claimed that they paid $250 on the fine with the understanding he should be released. The commissioners knew nothing of such action and refused to release him.

BELFAST, Nov. 21—One unionist was killed and a Sinn Feiner seriously wounded in a revolver battle in the New Towards Road area of Belfast.

Wreck Their Auto Fined as Drunks

Sheriff Backus received word yesterday that there were two drunken men on the west side of the river. He went over and learned they had gone out the Telegraph road. Following out he found the auto wrecked beside the road, and heard the men had gone to Memorial hospital. He started for the hospital at the corner of Broad and East River street, saw three men arguing. They turned out to be the ones he was looking for and he arrested Louis Konrad and Steve Thames, both of Cleveland, on a charge of intoxication, and turned them over to the Elyria police. This morning they were fined $5 and costs each on an intoxication charge.

France Bolts

He contented himself merely with pleading his country's justification in face of increasing menace, and so passionately and eloquently did he perform the task that before he was through, women in the crowded galleries were moved almost to tears.

He painted a vivid picture of German militarism not dead, but merely lying dormant, ready to strike at France again when the moment arrives, just as it did in 1914.

Fears Germany, Russia

Behind this menace, he pointed Russia, filled with anarchy and armed men. The combination of the two, he warned, was not an idle dream, it was a hard, cold possibility and it had to be faced. Russia, he said, had armed forces of twenty million men; Germany some seven million.

Could the world, he asked, have France disarm before this terrible menace? Would the nations sitting around the table agree to disarm if they were situated as France is? Would it be fair to France herself, or to the world, if they did so? He thought not.

The premier spoke for nearly an hour. He spoke so fast that even the fluent French speakers in the other delegations were able to follow him only with difficulty. At times he stopped in order to allow a translation of his remarks to be read.

When he finished his exhortation, he was almost exhausted and he sank in his seat amid the plaudits of the throng.

France already, Briand said, has cut down her army to almost the lowest possible point consistent with national safety.

The French army, he said, has been cut down one-third, and would be still further reduced.

"Tomorrow," he said, "we will have cut down to one-half."

The premier pointed out that laws already were pending in the French chamber of deputies, decreasing the period of compulsory military service from three years to one and one-half years.

FIX NEW ARMIES FOR WORLD POWERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Today's session of the Washington conference focused attention upon the size of various military establishments. Troops held under arms by the various nations were estimated as follows:

British Empire 500,000; France, 500,000; Japan 350,000; Italy 300,000; United States 140,000; Poland 400,000.

The American army already is at its minimum strength. Practically all the other powers claim to be reducing their armies as rapidly as they can. The figure for the British include the territorials or local troops under arms in the dominions.

These steps, Briand said, have already been taken by France, as an evidence of her willingness to do her utmost to realize the ideal of reduced armament.

No promises for the future other than these were made by the French premier, and he merely pointed to them as indicating France's desire to escape the accusation of being imperialistic in her military policy.

OHIO STATE MAY PROTEST GAME

COLUMBUS, Nov. 21— Ohio State university officials, students and fans here today are intensely interested in the claim that the touchdown scored on Ohio field, Saturday by Illinois was not earned because the forward pass, Peden to Walquist, was grounded.

Motion pictures of the game, it is contended, prove that the pigskin hit the ground before Walquist grabbed it and carried it over the goal line.

"That is the way it looked to me as I was sitting on the bench," said Dr. Wilce, coach for Ohio State's eleven, when informed of what the movies show. "The officials, however, whom we engaged to represent us, saw the play differently, and, of course, their ruling goes, although it is not a little satisfatcion to us to know that the touchdown was not legal and that the whole aspect of the game was changed by the play.

"I shall certainly see the pictures and will communicate to the officials what the pictures show," declared Coach Wilce.

"My back was to the play and I cannot tell whether the ball hit the ground or not, but it did strike me on the head," said Truck Myers, captain of the Ohio State eleven. "You remember that I was running toward the north goal and I really did not see the ball until Walquist was grabbing it."

The ball should have been called back and placed in play again on the spot where the alleged incompleta pass started, if the ball struck the ground. Had this been done, the game would have ended, probably, without either side scoring, it is claimed.

her former son-in-law in an antemortem statement.

According to police, Vandervort, who had recently been divorced by his wife, had quarrelled with a farmer named Rodney Wallace on the streets of Wilmington, early Saturday evening. While he was being sought on this charge, a call came from the Whitlow home where Mrs. Vanoervord had made her home since her divorce.

Here the bodies of Mrs. Vandervort and nearby Bosier, lying in the living room were found, with Vandervort holding his infant child in his arms. Mrs. Whitlow, at the point of death was found lying in the kitchen.

A ten-year-old son of Vandervort and his divorced wife stated to Sheriff Kirk that his father came to the house in an automobile and that, when Mrs. Vandervort opened the door in answer to his ring, he shot her instantly through the heart. Another bullet disposed of Bosier and then two shots were fired at the older woman, both taking effect but niether resulting in instant death.

Vandervort denies his guilt. He told Sheriff Kirk that he heard shots while passing the house, entered and found the dead bodies of his former wife and Bosier and Mrs. Whitlow at the point of death.

Ft. Wayne Man Had Lost Fifty Pounds In Weight Before He Started On Tanlac

"I'm firmly convinced Tanlac saved my life and I would go the limit for it," said William Bowers, foreman at the Rub-No-More Soap Co., living at 1105 Wabash Ave., Fort Wayne, Ind.

"My whole system seemed to give way as a result of stomach trouble and I lost over fifty pounds in a few months. I was in such poor health I had to lay off from work from July to October and never expected to be a well man again.

"Tanlac has taken hold of me and is building me up faster than anything I ever saw. I have gained sixteen pounds in weight and feel fine in every way. In fact I'm just like a different man, and my improvement is so big it has caused a stir in my neighborhood. Everybodys out where I live who has stomach trouble at all seems to be taking Tanlac.

Tanlac is sold in Elyria by J. Adolphus Ebert, and leading druggists everywhere.—Advt.

CARAVAN MAKES 1,187 MILE TOUR FROM GREAT LAKES TO GULF

The first motor bus caravan, organized to carry passengers from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, recently completed a 1,187 mile jaunt from Chicago to New Orleans. The caravan, which was in charge of the T. & S. Tours Company, of Chicago, consisted of thirty passengers and three White motor busses of the type used in the national parks.

The tour, known as the Dixie Motor Bus caravan, traversed the Dixie highway from Chicago to Louisville, the Jackson highway from Louisville to Meridian, Miss., and the Mississippi Valley route from Meridian to New Orleans.

The caravan made the long trip in a leisurely manner, utilizing in all 13 days, so as to give the passengers an opportunity to view the scenic splendors en route, meet people along the way and participate in welcoming fetes tendered the pioneers in long distance motor bus travel by the hospitable folk of the South. Night stops were made at Danville, Ill.; Columbus, Ind.; Louisville, Ky.; Cave City, Ky.; Bowling Green, Ky.; Nashville, Tenn.; Florence, Ala.; Hamilton, Ala.; Columbus, Miss.; Meridian, Miss.; Hattiesburg, Miss., and Bogalusa, La.

The Motor Club of Louisiana sent a delegation of its members to Slidell to welcome the tourists and conduct the party on to New Orleans.

There was no mechanical trouble to mar the pleasure of the journey. Only one tire change was necessary and that was made at a luncheon stop. The actual running time of the busses was 68 1-3 hours and their average speed 17 3-4 miles per hour. They covered 90 miles a day.

The roads encountered were, for the most part, good, the tour recalling vividly the substantial progress made in highway construction throughout the South in the last few years and particularly in Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

The passengers, including a dozen women, were delighted with the trip, and are now thoroughly convinced that bus travel affords the ideal mode for "Seeing America First."

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat says a well-known authority Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, dizzy spells, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges The urine is cloudy, full of sediment channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night

Either consult a good reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Adv

LORAIN FRATERNAL ORDERS TO BUILD

Fraternal orders at Lorain are planning erecting or enlarging their present quarters and are busy conducting a campaign to that end.

The Masons are raising funds to erect a Masonic Temple at the northeast corner of Broadway and Eighth street at an expense of $250,000 It will be three stories high, 76x230 feet and will be modern in every respect.

The Elks new home at the corner of Washington and Erie avenues, will also be completed during the coming year. The plans call for a modern brick structure that will be a credit to the order

The Eagles are planning to add to their building at Broadway and Sixth street by the erection of additional floors.

DR. HILL'S FUNERAL TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for the late Dr. Edward J. Hill aged 48 will be held at the home of his brother William Hill, 224 Cleveland St. tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock. An error was made in Saturday's paper. Dr. Hill was a physician up to about a year ago at Chatham, where he was well and favorably known. He is survived by his brothers, William, Elyria; Ford of North Eaton; Elmer of Cleveland; his sister Mrs. Mildred Durkee, Cleveland, and his mother. Burial will take place at Butternut Ridge cemetery. He was a graduate of Huron road college and a practicing physician for 21 years.

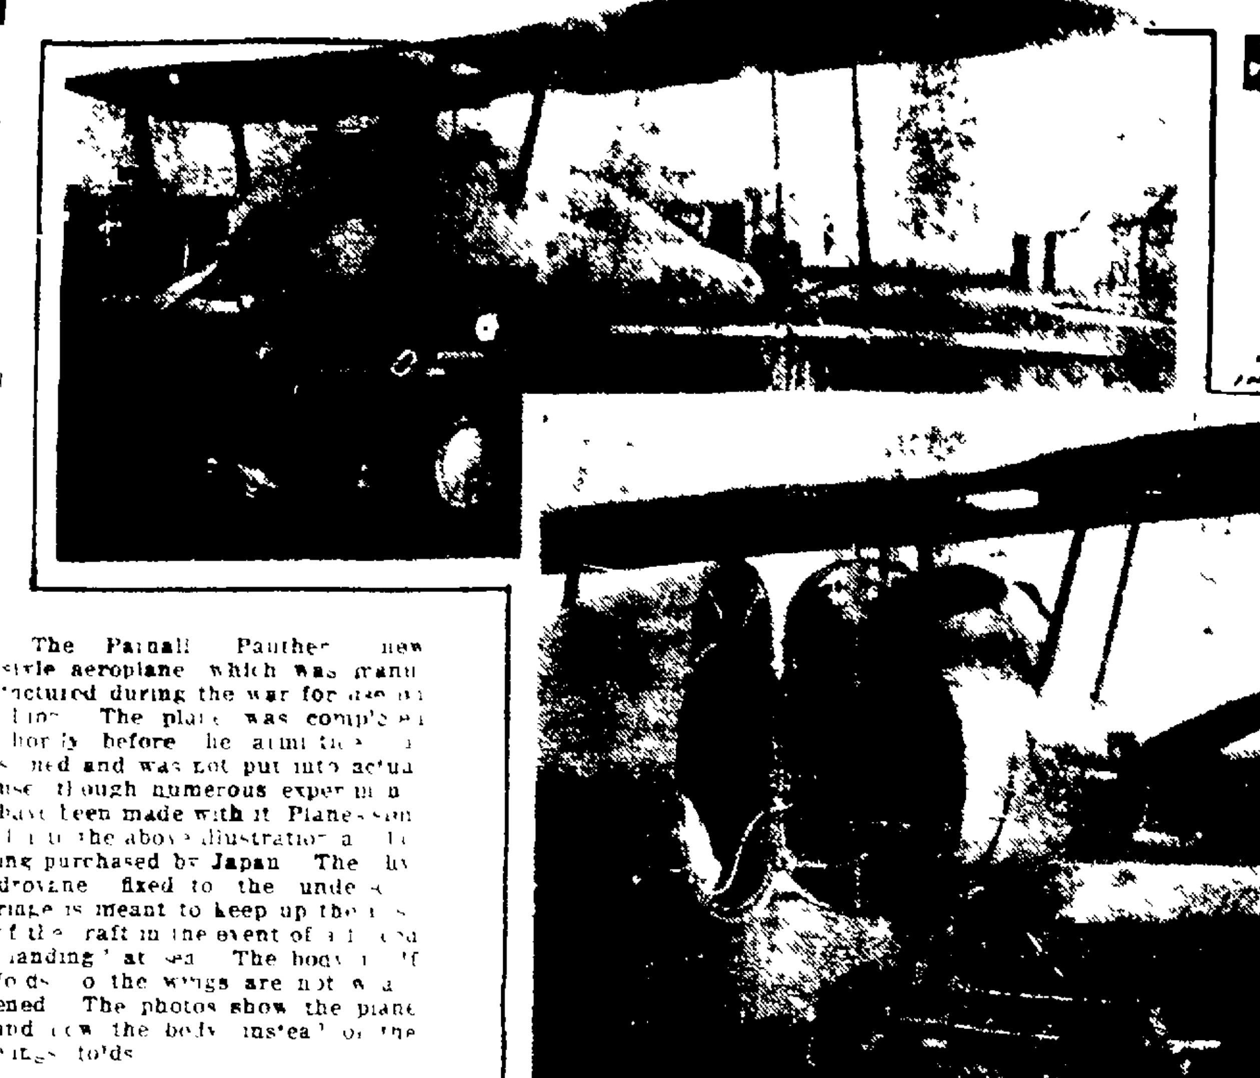

WILL REPRESENT 'GOLD STAR' MOTHERS OF MASSACHUSETTS

Mrs Frederick Putnam

Mrs. Frederick Huntington Putnam, who was appointed by Governor Cox the "Gold Star" Mother to represent Massachusetts at the Armistice Day burial exercises for the Unknown Soldier, is the mother of First Lieutenant David E. Putnam of Newton, who was killed in France in September 1918. Lieutenant Putnam, her son, was a descendant of General Israel Putnam, Revolutionary War hero. Lieutenant Putnam was born in Newton, Mass., and entered the war before the United States went in, flying for the French. He was regarded as one of the great American aces, his most notable feat being the destruction of five German planes over the battlefields of Rheims in June 1917. He was killed while patroling the American lines. He and another officer were attacked by seven German machines and Putnam was shot through the heart.

LA GRANGE SCHOOL NEWS

Contributed by The Seniors

LAGRANGE, Nov. 21 — Miss Ketterings room and Mrs. Jones have worked faithfully on two operettas to be given Tuesday evening, Nov. 22 at the town hall. There will be no admission, and everyone is invited.

The two literary societies which were organized some time ago held a meeting one day last week and gave a name for each society. The literary society organized by Juanita Leiby and Adrian Jackson has been called the Harding society, while the other society has the name of Jolly Entertainers. The Harding literary society are working on the program, which will be given the Wednesday before thanksgiving.

Several of the grade pupils visited one of their former classmates, Irwin Outz, who has been ill for several months. At the present time he is visiting friends in La Grange.

A very interesting talk was given by Mr. McMillan Friday morning on the subject of, "How to Study."

Sample menu served by the Domestic Science Class

Fried oysters, twelve cents
Free bread and butter too
Don't you think it sounds good
I'm very sure I do
There are sandwiches, at five cents
The cocoa is three
They all taste fine
Just come down and see.

Three new books of fiction have been added to our library. They are "The Flaming Forest," by James Oliver Curwood; "The Snowshoe Trail," by Edison Marshall and "Her Father's Daughter," by Gene Stratton Porter.

The Senior French class are now studying the ways, climate, location and place of interest in France. Their instructor, Mr. McMillan holds the interest of the class by showing them views and telling entertaining incidents that took place over there, during the war.

Several of the High School boys preferred shot guns, to text books the first day of hunting season. The work which they missed was made up on their return.

Only the players were dismissed for the Valley City football game Friday afternoon.

The Juniors and Freshmen are gradually gaining on the Sophomores and Seniors in the spelling contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones motored to West Unity last Thursday afternoon to attend the funeral of a friend, which was on Friday. They visited their home over Saturday and returned Sunday.

How Yeast Vitamon Tablets Put On Firm Flesh

Quickly Increase Your Energy and Beautify the Complexion. Easy and Economical to Take.

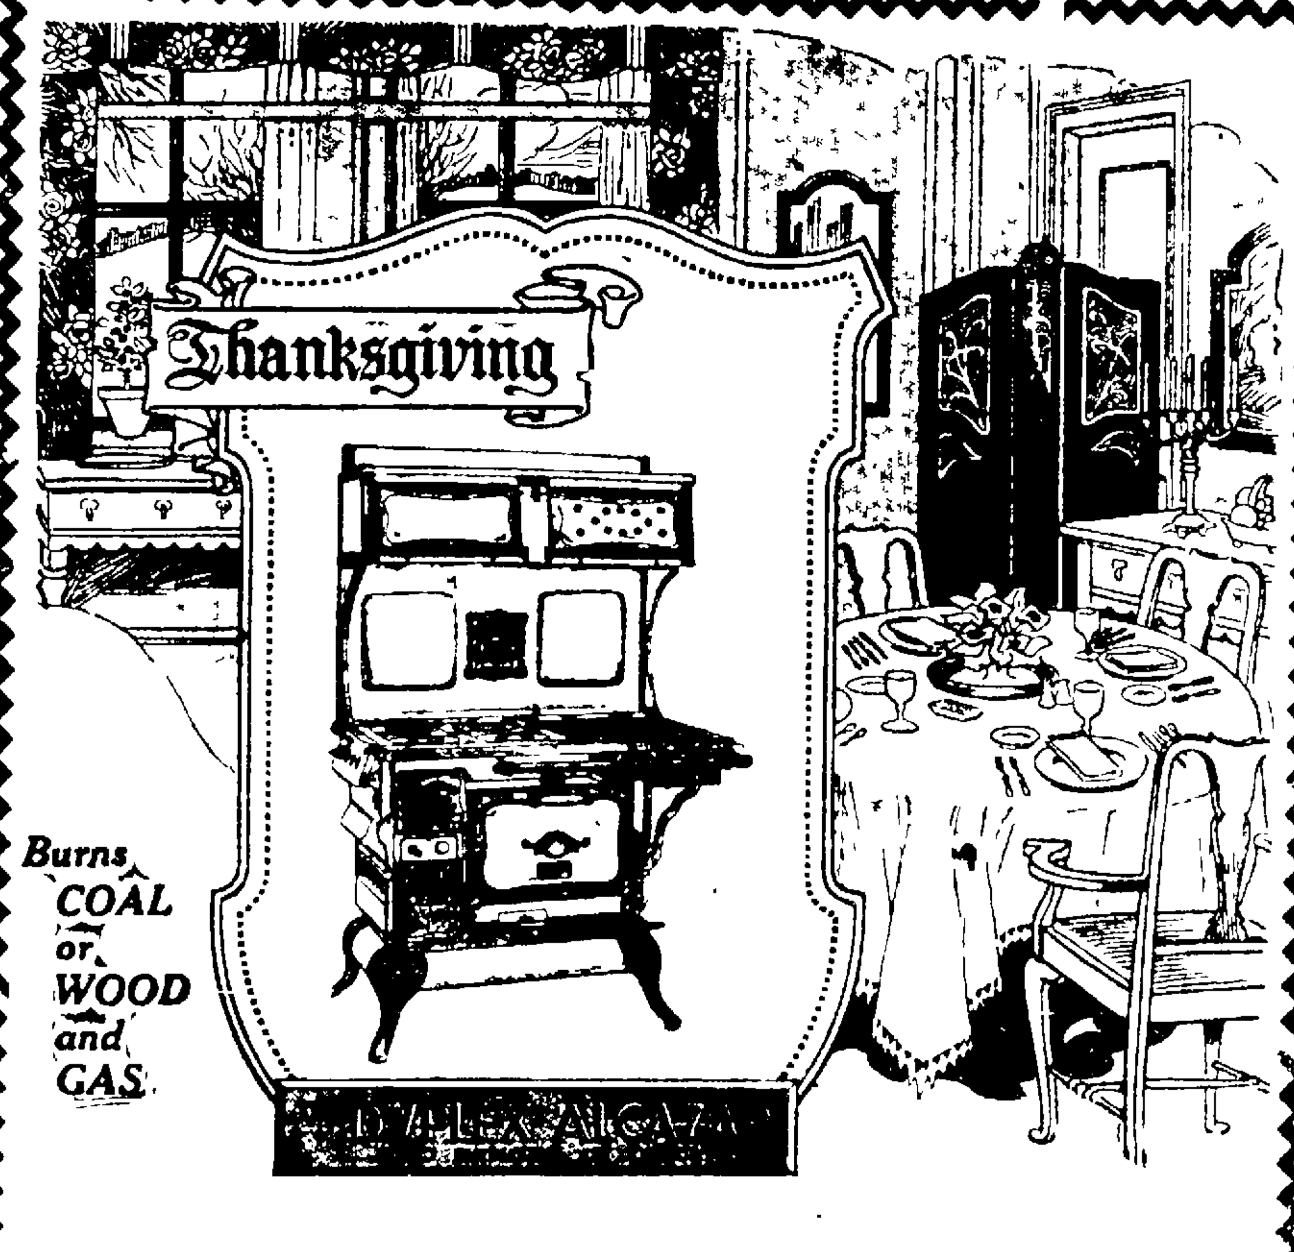

Thin or rundown folks! Take Mastin's VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself each week and continue taking Mastin's VITAMON regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. Mastin's VITAMON contains highly concentrated yeast vitamines as well as the two other still more important vitamines (Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C). It is now being used by thousands who appreciate its convenience, economy and quick results. By increasing the nourishing power of what you eat Mastin's VITAMON supplies just what your body needs to feed the shrunken tissues, strengthen internal organs, clear the skin and renew shattered nerve force without upsetting the stomach or causing gas. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish as if by magic and the complexion becomes radiantly clear and beautiful.

IMPORTANT! While the amazing health-building value of Mastin's VITAMON has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, nervous troubles, anemia, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, it should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having their weight increased to normal. You can get Mastin's VITAMON tablets at all good druggists.

Complications arise which result in the vicious blaspheming of the boy's mother by her former husband, and a fight between the two in which the financier is accidentally killed by his own revolver. The sole witness to the affray, the mistress of the slain man, perjures herself on the witness stand to secure the boy's conviction and sentence to death.

In the ensuing scenes of the drama, in which the mother's sacrifice comes into play, Mr. Ince has resorted to wholly new dramatic practices, which the powerful climax more than justifies.

The acting honors are pretty evenly divided. Joseph Kilgour, as the financier, gives his customary sound interpretation of the heavy role. Betty Blythe, as the wayward woman, is not only beautiful and gowned in surpassing elegance, but demonstrates genuine histrionic capabilities in her many dramatic situations. Claire McDowell, in the title role, is sincere an dconvincing, and Betty Ross Clark commands sympathy and admiration as the plucky sweetheart of the condemned lad.

Lloyd Hughes, as the boy, Robert Sheldon, demonstrates that he is not only destined to become a top-notch dramatic actor, but that he has practically arrived at that position of eminence. His work in the different prison scenes is flawless.

"Mother O' Mine" was adapted to the screen by C. Gardner Sullivan from Charles Belmont Davis' story, "The Octopus." Fred Niblo directed under the personal supervision of Thomas H. Ince. The photography is accredited to Henry Sharp.

"French Frolics" At The Rialto Saturday

At the Rialto theater, Saturday night, Nov. 26. French Frolics company one of the best known and most popular attractions in burlesque will present a brand new two act entertainment entitled "Here, There and Everywhere" in which many amusing scenes and incidents are cleverly arranged to fit the talents of the exceptional cast of youthful entertainers of this troupe who have been carefully selected from vaudeville and musical comedy shows to provide the demand for new faces, which has been successfully accomplished by the French Frolics this season, Hal Sherman, Ben Burtt, Eddie Burke, Milly Mack, Mary Hastings, Bonnie Lloyd, Lillette and others are said to be as nifty a set of talented young entertainers as ever has been assembled together, they are ably assisted by an excellent chorus of young and pretty girls, the speed and vim displayed throughout the entertainment is promised far obove the ordinary. Many vaudeville and novelty musical numbers especially written are interspersed with an excellent comedy book, where up to the minute material has been supplied What can be called a set of "Kids" with plenty of talent, ambition and life to them, who work with such an earnest endeavor that a pleasant and refreshing surprise is assured in witnessing and being highly amused with a company of entertainers who try so hard and succeed so decidedly in pleasing their audiences that they show evident delight in the pleasure and enjoyment they render to their audiences.

A very excellent entertainment is promised with the French Frolics if only half of the advance claims and notices of the newspapers of the cities this attraction has already played are correct. A special feature this year is the illuminated glass runway, above the heads of the audience. Seat sale Friday, 9 a. m.

BOWLING SCHEDULE FOR PRESENT WEEK

The bowling schedule in the City league for this week call for some good games between the rival teams.

The Galas teckle the Court House team at the Gala alleys. These teams are great rivals and each will strive hard to win. At the same time the K. of C. and Perry's team will roll at the Temple alleys. Each have won and lost the same number of games and their standing will be affected by the result.

On Thursday evening the Comets will roll the Lorain County Electrics at the Gala. The Comets are in the cellar position and will do their prettiest to win this series. The Eagles and Temples are bound to stage a good game the same evening at the Temple. The Eagles are in second place with the Temples next to them.

Friday evening the Moose and Gala Colts roll at the Temple. The Colts are going good at present, and the Moose will have to extend themseves if they want to retain first place.

STALE BLOOD AFFECTS FEELINGS

Pepto - Mangan Makes Red Blood, Restores Healthy Glow

It is gradually, very gradually, that the effects of weakened blood become apparent. Generally there is a feeling of lassitude. It is like a harmless, lazy heaviness, and the complexion becomes muddy.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is the very first thing a woman should think of taking for a stale-looking complexion. It drives out the poisons that ruin complexions.

But it is not only the effect that Gude's Pepto-Mangan has upon the complexion that makes it so valuable. New healthy blood causes an improvement in feelings, a return to the usual style of enthusiasm, a sensation of warmth and glow, an appetite that eagerly awaits eating time.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes new blood. It comes in liquid, or tablet form, both having the same medicinal value. The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on every package. Advertisement.

FAMOUS STAR COMES HERE NEXT FRIDAY

Under his own management, Lou Tellegen, America's foremost romantic actor, will present himself (in person) and his own company at the Rialto theater on Friday, Nov. 25, for an engagement of one night only in an elaborate revival of his greatest success on this side of the Atlantic, "Blind Youth" a comedy drama in three acts which is the joint work of Willard Mack and Lou Tellegen and which enjoyed a long run at the 39th Street theater in New York City.

It can truthfully be said, there is no actor on the American stage today possessing more brilliant talent of charming personality than Mr. Tellegen, whose early training was received and developed at the Paris conservatoire and came to its full power when he was leading man with Mme. Sarah Bernhardt. It is conceded by the entire press of the country, he has that rare quality of romance, and the instinct for dramatic situation, which is characteristic of the Latin races. His popularity is remarkable, in that it was gained in so short a time.

The play tells a story of a young artist, whose mother, an merican, left in Paris with his father, a Frenchman. The latter dies shortly afterward and the mother, who is in New York, marries again. Left to his own devices, the young man falls into the clutches of an adventuress. The revelation of her unworthiness drives him to wine, but he is brought to think there are finer things in life by a fellow artist. Seeking his mother in New York he starts anew, and the regeneration is about complete through his love for an American girl, when his old flame appears on the scene. to disclose more of the story would rob many auditors of some startling surprises.

Mr. Tellegen will present "Blind Youth" here with an exceptional cast, including: Helen Grayce, Isabel Alden, Dorothy Beardsley, Georgia Prentice, Estelle Floyd, Louis Darclay, Russel Davis, Hugh Banks and Russell Clark, and a brand new production identical in setting to that seen in the long run in New York

The sale of seats will open on Thursday, 9 a. m. Mail roders now being received.

Constance Talmadge and her husband

That Constance Talmadge, the star, has been separated for several weeks from her wealthy husband, John Piagalou, was admitted by her in Los Angeles. The trouble culminated a month ago in this city, when she flatly refused to accede to her husband's demand that she give up the screen. That ended the romance that ten months ago united in marriage the youngest of the three Talmadge sisters to the wealthy Greek tobacco importer. Miss Talmadge made this statement: "There is no other man or woman between us. We quietly arranged our parting. We just couldn't get along. My husband is not of the theater world. He could not understand my going away off to California to appear in the pictures. Perhaps he could not understand because he is a foreigner, and I am an American. Besides, as I have discovered, our temperaments are entirely different. He wanted me to give up my movie career. But I cherish that career as I do life itself. He wanted me to give it up and merge my individuality with his. Of course, I refused." Miss Talmadge is at the home of her sister, Natalie, Mrs. Buster Keaton, in Los Angeles.

New York's Musical Hits Written By Women

Alma Sanders

Ann Nichols

Dorothy Donnelly

Versatile Actress Blazes Trail for Feminine Contemporaries

Here are three women who have just taught Broadway a new trick and incidentally shattered at least three sacred traditions of the great thorofare

Each has written a musical comedy for the tired business man so successfully that the trio are the season's musical comedy headliners

Thereon hangs a tale In previous seasons T B M musical comedies were all done by men Producers accepted plays from women, but when it came to musical comedies they said "let George do it," and he did

If any courageous woman did write a musical comedy Mr Producer always courteously rejected it, explaining that none but a man could possibly know what would appeal to the tired business man As if forsooth, woman in her antique role of home maker hadn't cherished this secret since cave days

Dorothy Donnelly Paves the Way

When Dorothy Donnelly came along with her exquisite 'Blossom Time,' the producers to whom she submitted it had the immemorial answer right on the tip of their tongues but fortunately for them they caught sight of the beautiful "Song of Love," and said they would look it over."

Miss Donnelly held her breath for a few days, because she was a star in theatrical circles before she was a playwright and knew all about producerial prejudices.

She needn't have worried, though. The charm was about due to be broken for the producers recognized a real treat for the T. B. M no matter what the sex of the writer, and that's why these days you hear so many men humming the exquisite 'Song of Love"

Ann Nichols, who had several successful plays to her credit, submitted 'Love Dreams," confident that she had a hit, and lo and behold, the producer agreed with her right away, so "I'm Looking for a Lonesome Girl" joined the ranks of the T B M's favorites, to be reinforced in a few days by "The Isle of Tangerine" and "Listen to Me," from "Tangerine," which Alma Sanders wrote

"It's easy," declare the three trail blazers, "as easy as it is for any woman to marry the man she wants We have been studying the tastes of men since the cave days, when we weren't permitted to have any other business in life than that of pleasing men. Any woman knows more about what a man wants today than he does himself Of course she does" And taking the receipts of "Tangerine," "Blossom Time" and "Love Dreams as a sample, even the producers are forced to agree.

Oberlin Pastor Tells of Disarm Meet Experience

OBERLIN, Nov 21 —As a prelude to his sermon Sunday evening, Rev N Van der Pyl presented some of the impressions he had gathered concerning the Peace conference while in Washington the past week

He said, that he like most others, had been hopeful at first over the probable results of the conference This was due mainly to the fine proposal made by Secretary Hughes, but he noted that the first meeting of the conference—on naval disarmament—was the only open meeting so far held, since then all metings have been secret, no one knows what is being done Not even the newspaper men are permitted and know anything about the deliberations

Mr Van der Pyl was present at a luncheon given by Secretary Balfour, of the British delegation, at the British embassy to the newspaper men Mr Balfour talked generally on any subject, except the conference On this subject he skilfully parried all questions No newspaper man is allowed to ask any questions at all of any member of the conference under penalty of losing the privilege of remaining inside the building where the meeting is going on Mr Van der Pyl think that the real issues at stake have not as yet been touched, at least no results have been reported

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them

Dr Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color.

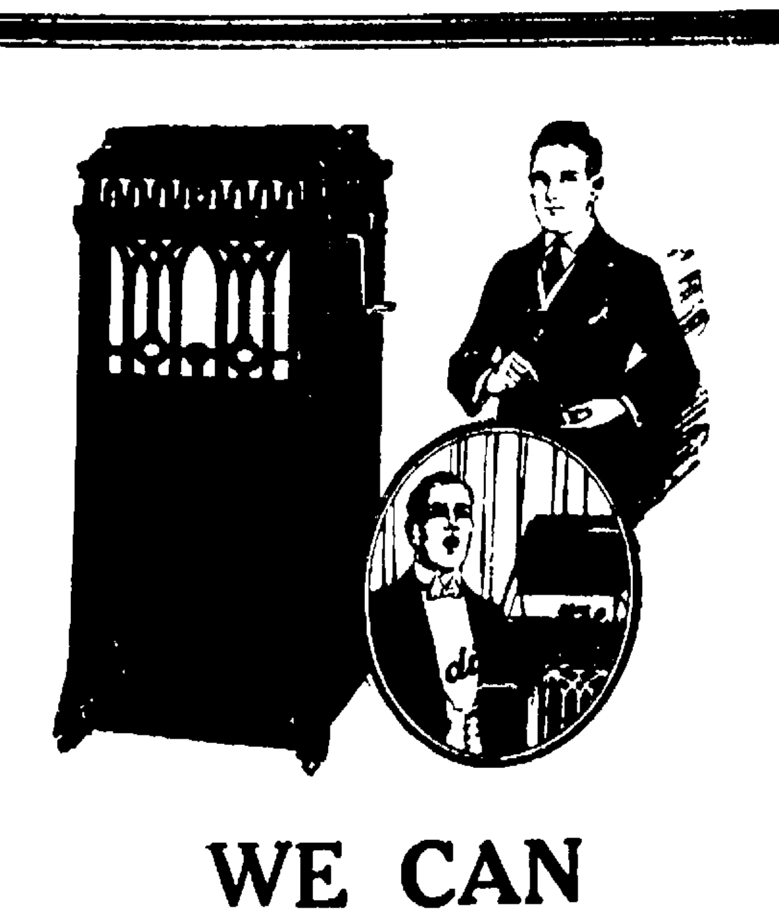

Dr Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c

ORIS HAS A CHAT WITH MRS. TREE-FROG.

TEARS started down Doris's cheeks All week she had been planning on going out to the woods with a owd of little girl friends on Saturday, id now Saturday had come and Doris's ama was expecting company and ere was lots to be done and—Oh, er!—Doris had to remain at home to ip her

"It's always this way," sighed Doris, ashing away her tears. "I bet next ne I'll—"

'Pukr-r-rup! Pukr-r-rup'" called a arse voice above Doris's head.

Doris looked up to see a funny little og sitting on a limb of the apple tree oking at her

'Pukr-r-rup' Pukr-r-rup'" the little og croaked again.

This sounded so funny to Doris that e laughed right out loud and pointed r finger at the funny little frog

'How did you know I was going to kr-r-rup my face'" Doris asked.

Mrs. Tree-frog looked down in astonment

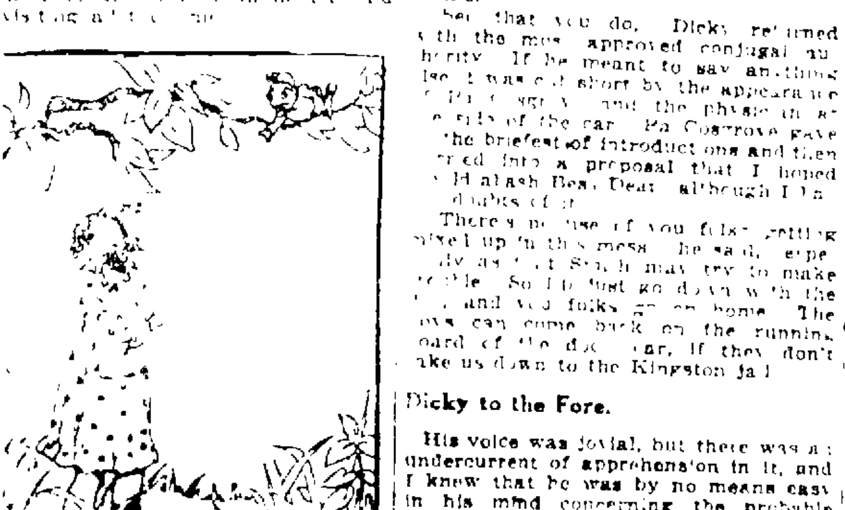

Well, now, isn't that funny" she oaked in a hoarse voice "I never eamed you could understand me I s making fun of your funny looking e It really was all pukr r rup and ouldn't help remarking about it"

I guess your face would be tied in ots if you had to stay home and rk while your little friends romped ong the fields" said Doris. "I want- to go out and play."

Pooh! if I got excited every time I nted to do something and couldn't, be tied in knots sure," croaked Mrs e-frog "I don't suppose you know but I haven't been away from this e since the day I came here to live ept one time when I went down to pond on business"

Well, I should think you would visit r pond cousin Mr Green-frog once a while" said Doris "I've often ndered why you don't go down there live. Why do you prefer staying here this old apple tree?"

My goodness!" exclaimed Mrs Tree- r in a disgusted tone of voice "If I time to visit that would be a dif- nt thing But I have no time to run ard calling on my neighbors Now heard it said by some one who was that Johnny Green-frog can't erstand why I don't visit him more goodness if I didn't have any more ng to do ... visiting a ...

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

Adele Garrison's New Phase of

Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1921, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

The Loophole Pa Cosgrove Gave Bess Dean.

I GASPED at the revelation of utter callous selfishness which Bess Dean gave in her proposal to Dicky that we go back to the Cosgrove home, leaving Pa Cosgrove to accompany the physician back to the inn where the wounded trooper lay

That she heard me I knew by the impatient twitch the shoulder next me gave But she was too intent upon Dicky's probable answer to her little speech to pay any further attention to me. And my interest in his answer rivalled hers, though I did not turn my head a quarter of an inch toward them.

"Very clever idea, that," he said, and there was apparent warm admiration in his voice "Your idea being, I presume that there is no need for us to get mixed up in the thing.

"Exactly" Bess Dean's voice was crisp, assured We are only boarders here, anyhow and they ought not to expect us to mix up with their neighborhood fights There's Pa Cosgrove now, coming out with another man. He must be the doctor, for he has the regulation bag with him Suppose you go and tell him "

"A Chest Protector?"

"No need for that," Dicky replied "They're coming over here By the way Madge, aren't you cold" I thought Lillian gave you a chest protector"

"A chest protector?" Bess Dean exclaimed in laughing bewilderment But I comprehended what Dicky meant With an intuition that seemed to me to be uncanny coming from careless Dicky he had guessed that Lillian had provided me with her badge of the diplomatic secret service, and I realized that he wished an assurance that it was safe and that I meant to use it if necessary

"She did," I returned "Since her own illness Lillian's been terribly fussy over health precautions" I swept an apologetic mental obeisance to Lillian for my tarradiddle "But I haven't needed it so far, though I'll put it on if it gets chillier."

"See that you do," Dicky returned with the most approved conjugal authority If he meant to say anything else I was cut short by the appearance of Pa Cosgrove and the physician at the side of the car Pa Cosgrove gave the briefest of introductions and then rushed into a proposal that I hoped would abash Bess Dean although I had doubts of it

"There's no use of you folks getting mixed up in this mess" he said, especially as that Smith may try to make trouble So I'll just go down with the doc and you folks go on home The boys can come back on the running board of the doc's car, if they don't take us down to the Kingston jail

"Will you ride with us or the doctor?"

"With the doc, I guess so if anything happens to his car I could help him out It's been acting up a bit he says."

"Suppose we run right behind you," I suggested "Then if anything goes wrong with his car we can pick him up and lose no time"

"That's the ticket!" Pa Cosgrove exclaimed, "We'll be off in a jiffy"

The physician, a short, stocky man with the air of efficiency and readiness to meet an emergency which only the successful man possesses, already had gone to his car, and we heard the noise of its starting as Pa Cosgrove ran toward it I turned my own ignition switch and swung in close behind Dr. Moss's car as it started at breakneck speed down the road

"Well! I must say, Madge, this is a very queer proceeding," Bess Dean began querulously 'Why Pa Cosgrove didn't care—'

"Let me give you a piece of advice sweet child" Dicky said lazily. "You might as well tackle that famous rock—you know 'this rock shall fly as soon as I' as to budge my missus when she gets that Puritan conscience of hers 'sot' on an idea. Besides, did it ever strike you that if we beat it at this juncture it would be distinct proof to Smithy's alleged brain that we did have a hand in beaning that poor lad? No. I'm afraid there's nothing for us to do but to face the music But don't be frightened baby girl Keep close to daddy He'll take care of you"

His voice, though mischievous, was apparently full of genuine concern and promised protection, and I would have given a good deal to know what his real thoughts were

Dicky to the Fore.

His voice was jovial, but there was an undercurrent of apprehension in it, and I knew that he was by no means easy in his mind concerning the probable action of the man Smith

"You're a dear, Pa Cosgrove!" Bess Dean cried with enthusiasm "What did I tell you, Dicky-bird?"

"So many things that I can't remember," he retorted 'This is awfully decent of you, Cosgrove" he went on in a tone which for the life of me I could not interpret It might presage acceptance or indignant rejection of the elder man's offer "But this expedition is captained by a better man than I The lady at the wheel is the boss. Long experience has taught me not to open my mouth until she has spoken

I checked at the vision of Dicky perpetually meek and silent Bess Dean swirled quickly in her seat

"Of course, Madge" she began, "I—"

"Of course we're going back with you, Pa Cosgrove," I said decidedly. "And we're wasting time discussing anything else

MOTHER'S MEMORY BABIES ❊ By Juanita Hamel

ONE of my memory babies is an exquisite slip of a girl 11 years old. Soft sun-gold curls, blue, blue eyes, and the softest red mouth in the world. One little hand clasps a tiny rosebud to her breast

"Another is a tiny man boy, two years old, chubby face, great soft brown eyes, soft curling brown hair, dusky cheeked, full, soft lips, faintly smiling. Another is a perfect dream baby. Lovely blue eyes soft clinging curls of purest gold, tiny rosebud mouth, pink, pink cheeks.

"These are my babies as sweet memory lingers—my dream babies my jewels!" A MOTHER whose babies are all grown up.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT Chumps, Gumps, Gudgeons

Copyright 1921, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc

JUDGE MOGAN of San Francisco says that any man who will not keep part of his pay check for his own use is a "chump."

Especially if the husband has made up his mind that his wife is simply using him as a meal ticket.

I don't know exactly what a chump is—it's something like a boob, isn't it?

And what relation is a chump to a mut, and which is the worst to have in the family?

But to get back to that meal ticket and the pay check. It seems to me Judge Mogan has said something that sounds a good deal like the truth.

No one has any use for the man who spends most of his salary on himself, and doles out the very least he can possibly manage to dole to the woman he promised to love, cherish and protect as long as they both should live.

A man who's stingy and grudging with his own family isn't much of an asset to any community, and no one cares very much what happens to him.

What Mary Should Do

But the man who turns over every penny he makes to his wife and then lets her grumble and complain that he doesn't make enough—he isn't a martyr or a saint

He's just a plain fool—capital F, double O, L—and that's all there is to it.

Any man who will allow a woman to use him as a work horse to drag her little wagon, and then let her sit up on the seat and flourish a whip while he's doing it, isn't a man at all.

He's a goose and a gump and a gudgeon, and a number of other things that aren't pleasant either to see or to be.

I know a woman who's always complaining because her husband won't buy her this and doesn't give her that, and the poor man is nearly a nervous wreck now working overtime, trying to get money enough to satisfy the demands of the blood-sucker he calls his wife.

If that man would just put his foot down once, good and hard—not in anger, not in a quarrel, not in violence, but calmly and firmly—he'd be master of the situation.

The wife is too lazy to work, and too unattractive to marry again. She knows that she has found a good thing, and she's determined to make the most of it.

Now, if her husband would just go home some night, and lock the front door and keep out the neighbors for half an hour, and say:

"Mary, I've changed my mind about you and me. I'm working hard to take good care of you—I'm doing it because you're my wife and because I love you. But I'm not going to go on loving you unless you turn over a new leaf. I'm going to give you enough money to live comfortably on—I'll give you something for your own spending money, and the rest I'm going to keep myself. I earn it and it's mine. If you don't think what I give you is enough, you can step out and earn some more yourself.

"Furthermore, you will have to do your share in this business of economizing. Also, I want the house that I provide for, kept in decent shape, and I expect some sort of human companionship when I get home from my work. You made a big mistake with me, Mary—maybe it's been my own fault, too—but you're going to change from this hour, and so am I."

And I believe that Mary would "come to" very fast.

What Will John Do?

What John will probably do will be nothing of the sort.

He'll endure and endure, until he can bear it no longer—and some day, he'll meet some coaxing little thing who'll tell him what a fool he is, and out will step John never to return.

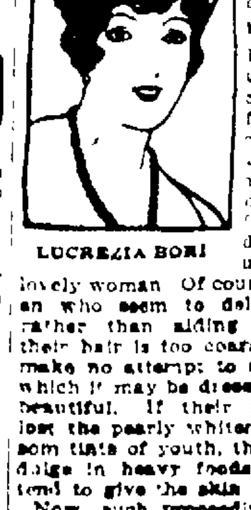

And very likely he'll be worse off the second time than he was the first, for the sort of woman who will coax a man away from his wife, no matter what she is, is not apt to be very much better than the wife, after all.

Yes, Judge Mogan is right—provided I know what he means or can even guess what a "chump" is.

What All Beauty-Seekers Ought to Consider Carefully

By LUCREZIA BORI

The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

LUCREZIA BORI

TO few women is given the perfect figure of Venus or the beauty of Mme. La Pompadour, yet with a little knowledge, what transformations women can make in their appearance! It is not imperative that one should have perfect features in order to win the reputation of being a lovely woman Of course, there are women who seem to delight in thwarting rather than aiding nature. Because their hair is too coarse or too fine they make no attempt to study the ways in which it may be dressed to make it look beautiful. If their complexions have lost the pearly whiteness or apple-blossom tints of youth, they continue to indulge in heavy foods, which naturally tend to give the skin a muddy look

Now, such proceedings are decidedly foolish. Within the heart even of the most demure of women lies a latent love of beauty. Doubtless, you may have caught a glimpse of your face in one of the many mirrors of some big store, and been surprised at your reflection. Perhaps you've always been considered a plain-looking woman, especially when contrasted with a pretty sister

But the glimpse in the mirror haunts you. You have discovered that there is something pleasing about your face. Then you remember! A bit of luck had brought an almost forgotten sparkle to your eyes, while a delicious wave of color had given a wild-rose tint to your cheeks.

Now, the woman who cannot boast of perfect beauty, which necessarily demands perfection of feature, color and form, should strive to express the beauty of her soul. Even though her features may be irregular, yet the charm of her personality may be such that were you to ask any of her friends their opinion, they would undoubtedly, unanimously declare her to be a lovely girl

Of course, a girl whose ideals are of the highest is naturally particular about her appearance, unless she is one of the few who seem to have forgotten the appeal of womanly charm in the effort to set the world right. Given, however, the foundation of worth-while ideals, combined with a healthy body, any woman can do much to accentuate her charms.

In the first place, she should cultivate a charming manner, which will win for her innumerable friends. Then she should modulate her voice so that it is a pleasure rather than a pain to listen to her.

In the matter of personal appearance, she should not have recourse to the crude make-up that distinguishes the weary-young faces of so many girls of today. The color in her cheeks should be acquired by plenty of fresh air and outdoor exercise, together with nourishing food, which will banish the false taste for rich food and an abundance of candy.

The arrangement of the hair should be the result of careful study to discover the style that is most becoming, irrespective of any unreasonable demand of a transient fashion

Clothes, too, play their part in the transformation of the plain woman into an acknowledged beauty. These should be always suitable to the occasion. It is far from seemly to dress for work in gowns primarily designed for afternoon tea, while sport clothes are not appropriate for formal affairs.

Then, too, clothes should be selected to accentuate each pleasing feature of the wearer. Color, especially, should be studied, as that is of vital importance. A good rule for determining what colors you should wear is to choose those that harmonize with your eyes or hair. Of course, there are many different shades, but if you give this matter a little consideration you will surely find those that are "just right" for you.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

My sweetheart and I were very happy and loved each other dearly until about three months ago, when I began hearing and listening to gossip.

Every one tells me he goes with a married woman, though she has a divorce But he tells me that if I love him I will not believe these things, for they are untrue.

I love him, and will never love any one else, but I have stopped going with him on that account, and it is breaking my heart. What must I do? I can't give him up. A. G.

A. G.: Since you love this young man and have found him trustworthy, you should not be influenced by gossip you have heard about him, which he denies. If you love him, you must trust him. You should either give him up completely and resolutely if you cannot make up your mind to trust him, my dear, or else decide that he is telling you the truth and pay no attention to gossip.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am 26, and two years ago I asked a girl 19 years old to marry me, and when she refused me she said that she still wanted to be my friend, so I knew there was no ill-feeling. I went away to try and forget, but it was impossible

When I came back a few days ago she made no reference to the past, but seemed perfectly natural.

What I want to know is whether or not it would be right for me to ask her again to marry me? D. D

D.: To ask her would not be wrong, but whether or not it would be wise is a question that you alone, who understand all the circumstances, can decide. Perhaps if you are patient, my friend, the moment may come when you will feel a reasonable hope that her friendship has ripened into love, and that it will be worth while to ask her again.

Annie Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. Letters to Miss Laurie should be addressed to her, in care of this office.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By JEANNETTE YOUNG NORTON

The Authority on Home Cooking

Solving the Problem of Thanksgiving Leftovers.

AFTER big holiday or other festive dinner parties there are always a lot of leftovers, which at first glance do not seem to be very inviting, but on further thought we find that they have infinite possibilities

For instance, there are a lot of different vegetables, some creamed and others just in butter dressings If just warmed over they wont be enjoyed, but pied they are a second treat.

Vegetable Pie.

Line a deep dish with good crust Cut the vegetables in small pieces, mix them, then free them from their sauces Make a rich brown sauce, only sufficient for the pie, cool slightly, then mix the vegetables in it, add a grated onion a dozen chopped raisins and a quarter of a minced pepper Put on the crust and bake until the crust is done

Leftover Soup.

Leftover vegetable soup may be varied for a second service by skimming off the grease, straining out the vegetables, and reheating with a bit of fresh seasoning, then adding tiny quick soup dumplings, macaroni, barley, rice or tapioca Or the soup may be turned into a cream soup by an equal amount of hot milk being added, a little soda having been put into the milk, and the whole soup thickened with butter and flour mixed to a cream. Most of the heavy soups can be warmed and thinned a little for second service

Turkey Leftovers.

A platter of cold sliced turkey, or turkey heated in the gravy, is a second-day dinner, then the rack is left to strip. This yields meat cut fine for turkey hash or chopped for turkey croquettes, a matter of choice The rack, trimmings and even the stuffing may go into the soup pot with any leftover bones, a can of tomatoes, and a soup bunch. Boil for an hour and a half, then strain through a sieve, then strain again through a fine sieve. Reheat, season, thicken slightly, and add a quarter of a cupful of melon-seed macaroni, cook ten minutes, and serve.

Hashed Goose.

Cut up the remains of the cold goose in small pieces, Fry a sliced onion a delicate brown in a little butter and add to the goose, with pepper, salt and a dozen seeded raisins. Make a brown gravy, heat the goose in it, and serve on toast squares garnished with slices of fried apple

Guinea Pie.

Line a small pie-dish with good plain crust, made a trifle short. Strip off all the meat left on the birds and cut it in neat, small pieces, add to it a half-cupful of minced, cold boiled ham, juice of an onion, pepper salt and a cupful of brown gravy. Fill the crust with the mixture, put on the upper crust, and bake twenty minutes in a medium oven A few mushrooms make the pie a little bit more savory if they are at hand.

Plum Pudding Leftovers.

Butter a small pudding-dish, and in it put the plum pudding that is left, breaking it in small pieces. Cover it with the pudding sauce. Then put in a layer of good home-made preserves, cover with cake crumbs, dot with butter, dust with sugar, and bake fifteen minutes. Remove from the oven and add a meringue, brown slightly, and serve the pudding warm or cold.

Steamed Pound Cake.

If there are enough slices of pound cake left over to go around, steam them, make a good pudding sauce, and they make an excellent second-day dessert with but little trouble.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

TUESDAY, NOV. 22.

Menacing astral forces dominate this day, according to the doctrine of planetary rule. Unsettled conditions are foreshadowed, with sudden situations arising which may call for fine generalship to manoeuvre The mind should be ready to cope with such, however, as it promises to be steady, profound and reliable. It may be wise to avoid removal, change, travel, speculation, and to persevere quietly in accustomed grooves

Those whose birthday it is may have a year calling for all their best efforts, but they may find themselves endowed with a steady and profound mind to meet baffling conditions They should avoid all change and money risk A child born on this day may be disposed to frequent changes, especially of occupation, but will be serious-minded and sedate.

YOUR HEALTH

"Watch Your Step!" a Warning Wise to Heed

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
Commissioner of Health, New York City

DR. COPELAND

EACH day we read about a terrible fire with the loss of several lives. The hazard of fire strikes terror to every heart.

Yet many more lives are lost each year from falls than are lost from fire.

Think over the friends of your lifetime. How many died from falls? Of my own friends I can recall at this moment three who were killed outright, and as many more who lingered for a time, but who finally died from the effects of injuries received through falling.

Your safety depends on good shoes, sure feet, the watchfulness of your eyes and the use of your wits. That many persons are not to be trusted is shown by the necessity of having railway guards calling out at every crowded place of passenger exit "Watch your step!"

If you will count the many things you encounter in a single day which may cause you a fall, you will come to realize how your welfare is menaced at every turn Think of the number of steps you go up or down, to subway or elevated with their stairways, platforms and car steps There is a threshold to every door the steps in your home, the running board of an automobile, the uneven floors of your place of employment, the sidewalks, curbs and crosswalk, the gutter and the pavement. There are rugs, ragged carpet and nails in the floor which may cause a stumble. There are elevator shafts, skylights, areaways and manholes. Every surface over which you walk is a possible menace to your safety.

In every factory, store and office it should be the rule of the owner to have every loose board nailed down The nails that stick up should be driven into place The floors, hallways and stairs should be kept free from even the tiniest pitfalls for unwary feet

"A stitch in time saves nine." In your home make a survey for obstacles that endanger safety. Don't neglect to correct defects as soon as they are discovered

Have the soles of your shoes kept in good condition Straighten the heels. Keep your underpinning good.

You should walk comfortably. Don't continue to suffer from corns, bunions or chilblains. Have good feet and keep them in first-class condition.

It is better to prevent disease than to cure it. Your health and physical prosperity depend on the removal of every possible thing that may cause a fall.

Bear in mind that every year the deaths from falls are more than the combined deaths from poisons, machinery accidents, firearms and mining. There is only one other cause of accidental death demanding more victims. This is railroad and street-car accidents, and deaths from falls are almost as many.

The moral of this story is that every child should be taught, and every individual should adopt, precautions against falls of every sort. It is a good motto:

Watch your step!

Answers to Health Questions

S. D. Q—At times I have acute pains in my stomach an hour or so before meals. Is this indigestion?

2—I am greatly bothered with pimples. Please advise me how I can remedy this.

A—This condition may be caused by an ulcer of your stomach. I would suggest that you consult a doctor regarding this trouble. He will have to examine you carefully.

2—If you will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and restate your question, I will forward you full information on the treatment of pimples.

By W. O. McLELLAN
Physical Director of Y. M. C. A.

After witnessing a large number of Little Big Seven games in the capacity of spectator and official it is trouble to give my opinion of who should be selected on the All Little Big Seven Mythical Eleven.

The players selected being picked for their all around ability on both the offense and defense. Like all players they have their off days but considering the whole season have put up a good brand of football.

Oberlin lead with four selections, Fremont and Elyria next with three each and Norwalk [illegible]

Ends

In picking Wilson, of Norwalk and Richardson of Oberlin we have two men that can go down fast under punts, catch passes good, sure tacklers and good [illegible] on both the offense and defense.

Tackles

McCarthy of Fremont and Krueger of Oberlin are two of the best tackles in this section. When they are on the offense are able to open up big holes in the opponents line and are just as good when they are on the defense by breaking through and blocking numerous plays.

Guards

Beal of Elyria and Hughes of Fremont, are chosen for their positions for the [illegible] ing on the offense and [illegible] The latter being a fine [illegible] worrying the play of [illegible] ents. The [illegible] steady game [illegible]

Center

Without a doubt Fitzgerald of Oberlin is the best [illegible] this section [illegible] accurate at all times [illegible] the ball back. On [illegible] is a thorn [illegible] his opponent. He uses his football brains to good use and directs his team very good. He was [illegible] of Oberlin and is also [illegible] Captain of the Mythical Eleven.

Quarterback

Considering that Wendler of Fremont and Farrar of Oberlin led their teams from the pivot position very good this season, Dan Oldfield seems to be the logical man for this position on the Mythical Eleven. He is a good thinker. Sizes up his opponents with ease. Keeps his opponent guessing at all times and uses a variety of attacks. He is a great broken field runner and also a good man on end runs [illegible] punts which nets him a valuable all around man.

Halfs

Wendler and Morris are two of the best men in the league. Wendler is cool at all times. Kicks passes and runs with the ball like a veteran. He has the whole backfield for Fremont this year. Morris plays more like a college player than a High School athlete. He punts and passes at all times to good advantage and is a wonder in broken field running. His line plunging added materially to Oberlin's championship this year.

Full Back

"Archie" as he is known in Elyria is one of best [illegible] For his [illegible] on end runs and his weight shows when he hits the line [illegible] usually plows on through for a substantial gain. He is good on tackling and passing. In backing up the line he is always on the job meeting the play usually [illegible]

[illegible] his past [illegible] of scrimmage

Second Selection

In some cases the second team pairs the first team selections a [illegible] At end Crowe and [illegible] two excellent men being in the same class of [illegible] The backfield is about as good as the first [illegible] Cobb was Sandusky's backfield [illegible] and is a [illegible] [illegible] and one of the fast men [illegible] His main weakness [illegible] off of the first team is the fact that he hits the line standing straight up.

ELYRIA-LORAIN END SEASON IN TIE

Two Cities Tied For Fourth Place—Thanksgiving Day Games

As a result of the scoreless tie game between Elyria and Lorain these two teams are tied for the fourth place in the final standing of the Northern Ohio Scholastic league.

The Final Standing

School	W	L	T	Pts
Oberlin	5	1	0	10
Sandusky	4	1	0	8
Bellevue	3	2	0	6
Elyria	2	2	1	5
Lorain	2	2	1	5
Fremont	1	1	0	2

The Elyria-Lorain game was the final one for the league. Several of the schools will play independent games Thanksgiving day. The games scheduled for Tuesday are:

Oberlin at Lakewood
Amherst at Wellington
Sandusky at Findlay
Ashland at Mansfield
Valley City at LaGrange
Willard at Shelby

NEW FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH

The secret of human vitality apparently has been discovered. Culminating five years of study, Philip Rathjen, M. A., Ph. D., of Pasadena, Cal., recently revealed for the first time an amazing discovery which he made. From the glands of selected bulls and cows, Dr. Rathjen has evolved a fluid which he claims, will produce the following amazing results, when injected into the human body.

Restoration of "pep" to worn-out human bodies, giving added weight, clearer eyes, brighter minds, quicker bodies and generally increased vitality.

The new serum, which, according to all reports, has produced remarkable success in many cases, is injected by a special method prescribed by Dr. Rathjen. No longer need there be transplantation of animal glands via the surgeon's table.

Bankers and All Stars Win Games

Two fast games of indoor ball were played Friday night between the Bankers and Clothiers and the "Y" Dorm and All Stars. The Bankers had some difficulty but finally defeated the Clothiers 18-15 while the All Stars added up a 21 to 9 defeat against the "Y" Dorms. This makes the first appearance of the All Stars who entered the league this last week in the place of the American Legion team which withdrew. They lived true to their name by defeating the "Y" Dorm which hadn't been beaten before. Bills was the pitching star of the evening [illegible] of the fact that he pitched for both the Bankers and "Y" Dorm and in each case struck out more men than the opposing pitcher.

LOCAL BARBERS LOSE AT DOVER

Elyrians Can't Understand Why Grafton Doesn't Want to Play Them Away From Home

The Barbers went to Dover yesterday and were defeated 19-0 by the strong Dover A. C. eleven.

They had obtained this game when the Grafton Indians canceled their game later in the week to be played here. But it seems that the Indians are a bit scared of the Barbers and they give the reason as: They want to rest up for Thanksgiving game with the Athletics." If this is the case, Pete Kohl a backer of the Barbers says: "We will play the Grafton Indians any time from now on to May [illegible] on a pool table in a story bank building in Elyria or Grafton."

The Dovers scored in the second quarter when Koch received a pass which netted 20 yards and a touchdown but he passed the ball out [illegible] this forfeited the right to kick but Dover did not understand this and an argument resulted. They again scored in the third quarter when Geer received a 20 yard pass and ran to Peale kicked goal and again in the 4th quarter when D. [illegible] plunged the line for 4 yards but he failed to kick goal. The game was very clean and the Dover A. C. did not understand some of the rules but otherwise the game was very hard fought. The Barbers have nothing to offer only that they were outplayed. Lineup and summary:

KIPTON BROWNHELM WINNERS

Boys' and Girls' County Rural School Basketball Tournaments Held at Amherst

AMHERST, Nov. 21—The first Lorain county basketball tournament was held in Amherst Saturday afternoon and evening. The meet was open to rural high schools only and prizes were awarded to both the first and second class high school winners in both boys' and girls' teams competed. The results of the games are as follows:

Afternoon Games

Class A, boys—Brownhelm 33, Kipton 20; Brownhelm winning the class A boys' championship

Class A girls—Kipton 11, Brownhelm 2. Kipton was awarded the honors in the girls' division

Class B, boys—South Amherst 18, Avon 2. Penfield 14, Brighton 0; Avon 12, Penfield 10; Avon 16, Brighton 4; South Amherst 8, Penfield 7. South Amherst emerged from these contests with Avon a close second.

Class B girls—Avon 12, Brighton 4; South Amherst 4, Penfield 2; Penfield 3, Brighton 2; Avon 7, South Amherst 0. Avon won the honors in this division, with South Amherst and Penfield tying for second place.

Evening Games

In the evening the winners in the class A division played the winners in the secondary group for the tourney championships.

Kipton, the class A girl champs, easily defeated the Avon five to the tune of 9-1.

In the boys' finals, Brownhelm was matched against South Amherst. This game was the most hotly contested of the entire days' play, the Brownhelm lads emerging the winners. The final score was 20-16.

The winners in each division were presented beautiful silver loving cups, suitably engraved.

It is planned to make the basketball tournament an annual institution and great rivalry is expected to develop among the different teams

F. R. Powers, W. J. Durling, P. A. Monger and R. L. Neumeister officiated at the contests
